

CRAZY EX-GIRLFRIEND - ROLE OF "HEATHER"

INT./EXT. APARTMENT COURTYARD -- DAY

Rebecca knocks on the door to Heather's apartment.

INT./EXT. DOORWAY -- DAY

Heather opens the door and looks at Rebecca.

REBECCA

HI!

HEATHER

No solicitors.

She tries to close the door.

REBECCA

I live next door, remember?

HEATHER

Oh, yeah.

She tries to close the door again.

REBECCA

We talked last week. I told you about my Mom and my friend who lives here--

HEATHER

Yeah, I remember you. Look, just a tip, you should know we don't talk to each other here. That door over there? That guy has lived next door to me for 11 years and -- I say guy, but honestly it could be a stack of cats in a jumpsuit. Nothing personal, just how we are.

REBECCA

I appreciate the insight. But I like to think myself as a bridge builder. Maybe you and I could shake things up around here.

HEATHER

Yeah, I'm not seeing that. Anyway, nice to meet you, stack of cats in a dress.

She tries to close the door.

REBECCA

No, no, wait. I'm having the best party on Saturday night. It's gonna be full-on. Full. On. And I wanted to invite you are the COOLEST person I know.

(realizing)

But now, I am sensing the slightest undercurrent of resistance--

HEATHER

What time should I come over?

REBECCA

You... wanna come?

HEATHER

Yeah, actually. Not to party or anything. Just to watch you.

REBECCA

Oh.

HEATHER

Yeah, I think you're fascinating. I'm taking Anthro 1 at the JC and I think you'd make a really good paper.

REBECCA

(does a courtly hand spiral)

Why, thank you, Madame.

HEATHER

Yeah, see, like that shit? That's an A right there. Done.
