[BEN] 29, handsome, fit, savvy. Seemingly happily married to LAURA, Ben is a rising star at Chrysalis, an international mega-corporation in the year 2062. Having married very well, Ben is an ambitious man who lives in a dog-eat-dog world, one in which he engineers the brutal downfall of his boss in order to move up the corporate ladder. Ben's seeming ruthlessness masks a secret motive, however. In this dystopian future, the well-to-do live in manicured Green Zones – but Ben is actually a child of the poverty-stricken Red Zone, where the love of his life, ELENA, sold herself into servitude to the corporation to pay off Ben's debts. Determined to find her and rescue her, he invented a new identity for himself and infiltrated the cutthroat world of the corporations. Ben is a man divided between his past and his present; between Elena, the woman he loved, and Laura, the woman he's deceived – and for whom he's developed true feelings. He's been playing this role for so long, and the temptation to embrace this manufactured persona is so strong, that Ben has to answer: to what extent does the end justify the means? How far is he willing to go to rescue Elena? And what happens if he fails?... SERIES REGULAR (2)

[LAURA] 27, Ben's wife. Simultaneously smart and yet naïve, Laura is socially very well-connected; her mother is ELIZABETH, one of the heads of Chrysalis, and Ben's position is partially due to nepotism. She loves her husband, but is unaware that Ben is an impostor. Born and raised with corporate privilege, Laura nonetheless has a conflicted relationship with it. She yearns to escape the gilded cage of the Green Zones, yet is frightened of what exists beyond the walls. A successful plastic surgeon, Laura is estranged from her mother. All her life she's fought to escape from Elizabeth's shadow, but she'll soon learn how much influence her mother wields both on her personal and professional life... SERIES REGULAR (3)

[THEO] 17, tough and cocky, Theo is Elena's younger brother, who was left behind to fend for himself in the Red Zone. The only person who knows Ben's true identity, Theo is a resourceful hustler who scuffles and scraps to get by. But when he steps on the toes of local ganglord TERRENCE, Theo escapes savage punishment and earns himself a second chance to make a living, as a cage fighter – something that can be his ticket to fame and fortune... or destroy him. SERIES REGULAR (15)

[ELIZABETH] 50s, Ben's mother-in-law, a top-level executive at Chrysalis. Whip-smart and powerful, Elizabeth certainly enjoys the perks of her position, but she's also trapped in a system that demands constant results and the ruthlessness needed to produce them. In order to protect herself and her family, Elizabeth has had to make some tough choices, which have estranged her from Laura. Now she's trying to repair that relationship, but interfering in Laura's life, even to help, proves to be counter-productive... and like her daughter, Elizabeth doesn't yet realize that her beloved son-in-law is an impostor who could destroy everything she's worked for...SERIES REGULAR (26)

[JULIAN] 40s - 50s, Head of Security and probably the most feared person at Chrysalis headquarters. Part detective and part grand inquisitor, Julian is a tenacious investigator with an uncanny ability to sniff out moles and traitors in the company. In his private life, Julian is a loving husband and father who does everything he can to keep his family separate from the brutality of his work. But lines will be crossed, especially when he suspects that there's a mole inside Chrysalis and begins to work relentlessly to sniff him out...putting him on a collision course with Ben...SERIES REGULAR (13)

[ROGER] 32, an ambitious and charming junior executive at Chrysalis, whose knowledge of the hidden pleasures of the Red Zones helps him score points with his bosses. Gregarious and charismatic, Roger is Ben's "friend" at Chrysalis, but when their boss CHAD is terminated with extreme prejudice, Roger and Ben find themselves in a winner-take-all competition for the same promotion... RECURRING (9)

[CHAD] 40s, a gray mid-level bureaucrat at Chrysalis, Chad is Ben and Roger's boss. A married man with kids, Chad's reached his position by appeasing his superiors and taking credit for the achievements of his subordinates. And yet Chad yearns to be accepted by these same subordinates, to earn their respect, and even their friendship. And that desire will be his downfall... GUEST STAR (13)

[TERRENCE] 40s, a ruthless crime boss with tailored suits and a carefully groomed appearance, who sees himself more as a businessman than as a criminal. He initially wants to punish Theo for intruding on his turf – but when he witnesses Theo's prowess with his fists, he instead offers him a job as a cage fighter. Terrence will become Theo's manager and benefactor – as long as his orders are obeyed. But if he discovers Ben's secret, nothing will stop him from seizing a new opportunity to get ahead...RECURRING (18)

[ELENA] Seen in flashback at 18 years old (but will play up to 28), she is the love of Ben's life. Beautiful, smart and driven, Elena was determined to overcome her origins and make something of herself – until she was forced to sell herself into servitude to pay off her family's debts, debts which Ben created. Now he'll do anything to find her and get her back... but if he does, who and what will he find?...RECURRING (48)

[RACHEL] 40s, Ben and Laura's housekeeper. A solid Midwestern woman, Rachel is one of the many day workers who come from the Red Zones to work in the Green Zones – but when an unlikely friendship develops between her and Laura, Rachel will become Laura's guide into the Red Zones...RECURRING (5)

[MARSHA] 53 years old, the next door neighbor of Ben and Laura, she screams when she gets a severed human ear in the mail, indicating that Marsha's cheating husband has been kidnapped – and it's up to her to pay the ransom...5 lines, 2 scenes (6) POSSIBLE RECURRING ROLE

STORY LINE: In the amazing future world of 2062, climate change has ravaged the planet, corporations reign supreme, and American cities have become a tantalizing and terrifying mix of the luxurious and the medieval. In this feral universe, BEN LARSON is determined to climb the rickety, bloodstained ladder of success in order to find and rescue the woman he loves... and woe be to anyone who gets in his way...
